you tell me everything. And when you say —

— those— words,— it's the sweet-est thing— I've— ev - er heard.— But when your eyes say it, (say it) that's when I know— that it's true. I feel it.—

I feel the love— com - in' through. I know it, (know it) I know that you— tru - ly care for me, cos it's there to see.— When your eyes say it.

eyes tell me, (tell me) I know they're not — tell - in' lies. They tell me — (tell me)

all that you're feel - in' in - side. — And it sounds so — right — when your eyes say it, — say — it. And the words they say take my breath

a - way. no song — ev - er sound - ed so sweet. — I love ev -

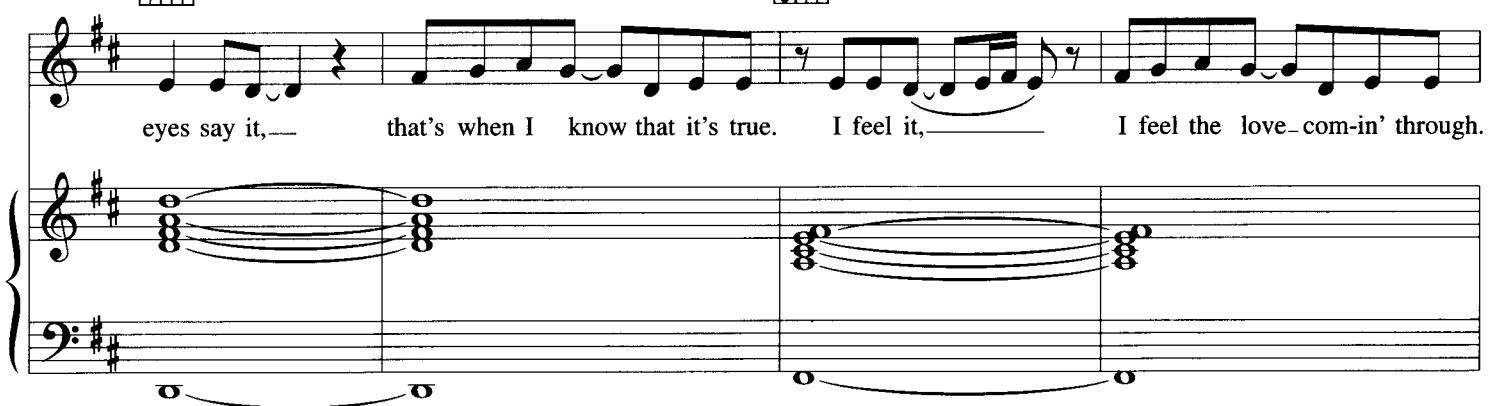

- 'ry word_ that they say_ to me. But when your eyes say it,— that's when I know that it's true. I feel it, I feel the love—com-in' through.

I know it,— I know that you— tru-ly care for me, cos it's there to see.— Oh, when your eyes tell me (tell me) I know they're not— tell-in' lies.— They tell me— all that you're feel- ing in -side.

Verse 2:

I love all the ways that you show me
 You'll never leave
 And the way your kisses
 They always convince me
 Your feelings run so deep
 I love the things you say
 And I love the love your touch conveys.

But when your eyes say it etc.
